SCY is hiring: Contract Legal Counsel

The Society for Children and Youth of BC (SCY) is a provincial advocacy organization dedicated to improving the well-being of children and youth through the advancement of their rights. They are currently seeking lawyers to be placed on a roster, to provide legal service to children and youth on a contract basis. The focus of the Child and Youth Legal Centre is to provide legal assistance to vulnerable, immigrant, and Indigenous children and youth. Presence on or removal from the roster is at the discretion of SCY.

The mandate of the CYLC is to improve the well-being of children and youth in British Columbia through the advancement of their legal rights.

The role of the Centre is to advocate on behalf of vulnerable children and youth. Legal counsel will put forward the child’s views and interests. In taking a position on behalf of the child, child’s counsel will ascertain the views and preferences of the child, if any, and will consider:

a. The independence, strength and consistency of the child’s views and preferences.

b. The circumstances surrounding the child’s views and preferences, and

c. All other relevant evidence about the child’s interests.
